The request filed on 18 July 2002 for a Continued Prosecution Application (CPA) under 37 CFR 1.53(d) based on parent Application No. 09/484,799 is acceptable and a CPA has been established. An action on the CPA follows.

Reference Has Become Available; Suspension Lifted

Because the reference considered relevant to the examination of this application has become available, the suspension has been lifted. A petition to make the application special was granted on 10 December 2002, and an action on the merits of the application follows.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 135-147, 152-161, 165-172, and 176 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Armand et al., US Patent 6,514,640.

Armand et al. disclose lithium ion battery cathode materials based on the general formula  $\text{LiMPO}_4$  having olivine structures. "Modified olivine structures" are also included in the Armand et al. disclosure. The modified olivine structures have the general formula:

where M may be  $\text{Fe}^{2+}$  or  $\text{Mn}^{2+}$  or mixtures thereof; D may be a metal in the +2 oxidation state, preferably  $\text{Mg}^{2+}$ ,  $\text{Ni}^{2+}$ ,  $\text{Co}^{2+}$ ,  $\text{Zn}^{2+}$ ,  $\text{Cu}^{2+}$ , or  $\text{Ti}^{2+}$ ; T may be a metal in the +3 oxidation state; Q may be a metal in the +4 oxidation state; R may be a metal in the +5 oxidation state. x, y, d, t, q, r, p, s, and v may be between 0 (zero) and 1 (one), with at least one of y, d, t, q, r, p, s, or v differing from 0. In a preferred embodiment y, d, t, q, r, and v may vary between 0 (zero) and 0.2 (2/10). (Column 2, line 63 – column 3, line 40.)

The negative electrode of the battery may be lithium-carbon intercalation compounds or lithium-titanium spinels. (Column 3, lines 51-64.)

The disclosure of Armand et al. differs from applicants' claims in that Armand et al. do not explicitly recite the compound  $\text{LiFe}_{1-y}\text{Mg}_y\text{PO}_4$  as a cathode material. However, applicants' invention as a whole would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art based upon the Armand et al. reference. Armand et al. disclose a class of cathode materials given by the general formula:

It is noted that in this formula, only one of y, d, t, q, r, p, s, or v must differ from 0. Thus, the Armand et al. disclosure encompasses single ion substitutions of 'M'. Because  $\text{Mg}^{2+}$  is listed as a preferred metal 'D', the olivine structure is preferably modified by aliovalent or isocharge substitutions (column 2, lines 51-52), and Mg<sup>2+</sup> is given as a specific example of a cation isocharge with Fe<sup>2+</sup> (column 2, lines 42-57), a lithium ion battery with a cathode active material of the formula would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art based upon the Armand et al. disclosure.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 148-151, 162-164, and 173-175 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The prior art of record fails to suggest compounds with an olivine structure and the empirical formula  $\text{LiFe}_{1-y}\text{Ca}_y\text{PO}_4$ , with  $0 < y \leq 0.2$  used as a cathode active material of a lithium secondary battery.
